Source: ABC News / TheStreet / CNBC – 11 June 2026

Impact: Oil plunged ~4%. Equities surged globally. Removes tail risk from Middle East escalation. Risk-on tone carries into Friday open. Watch energy sector and safe-haven assets.

SpaceX prices IPO at $135/share – $75B raise, $1.77T valuation – begins Nasdaq trading today under SPCX

Source: NPR / CNBC / Investing.com – 11-12 June 2026

Impact: Largest IPO in history, eclipsing Saudi Aramco 2019. SpaceX absorbed xAI this year. Nasdaq sentiment highly positive going into open. Musk-linked stocks likely active. OpenAI and Anthropic IPOs expected later in 2026.

US CPI May 2026: +4.2% YoY, +0.5% MoM – 3-year high driven by energy surge

Source: BLS / CNBC / Bloomberg – 10 June 2026

Impact: Highest annual inflation since April 2023. Energy +3.9% MoM (gasoline +7% MoM, +40.5% YoY). Core CPI +2.9% YoY. Data came in line with estimates. Reduces near-term Fed rate cut probability further. Bunds sell-off risk for Europe given ECB June meeting incoming.

Asian equities stage broad rally – Kospi surges up to 8.5%, Nikkei +3.3% – chipmakers lead

Source: Bloomberg / CNBC Asia – 12 June 2026

Impact: Iran deal optimism combined with SpaceX IPO hype drives Asia-Pacific risk appetite. Samsung Electronics and SK Hynix each up >9%. Positive read-through for European tech/semis and risk assets at open.

ECB June meeting: 25bp rate hike widely expected amid persistent energy-driven inflation

Source: Trading Economics / multiple market sources – June 2026

Impact: German 10Y Bund yield near 3.07%, two-month highs. EUR/USD stable around 1.165. ECB hiking cycle complicates European credit spread outlook. Watch iTraxx Main reaction to Iran ceasefire news.

4. YESTERDAY'S CLOSES – EUROPEAN INDICES

Thursday 11 June 2026 | Source: CNBC / Trading Economics / MarketScreener

INDEX	CLOSE	CHANGE	% CHANGE	NOTE
Euro Stoxx 50	5,999	+54	+0.9%	CPI in-line, Iran deal hope
DAX 40	24,210	+14	+0.06%	Muted; bund yields weigh on valuations
CAC 40	8,205	+43	+0.53%	Energy lagged; banks aided by rate outlook
FTSE 100	10,304	+50	+0.48%	Oil majors capped gains; defensives supported

5. US MARKETS – YESTERDAY'S SESSION (Thu 11 June 2026)

Source: TheStreet / CNBC / Bloomberg / Investing.com

INDEX	CLOSE	CHANGE (PTS)	% CHANGE
S&P 500	7,394.30	+127.1	+1.75%
Nasdaq Composite	25,809.66	+641.1	+2.54%
Dow Jones	50,848.75	+929.97	+1.86%

Session Tone: Decisively Risk-On

Trump announcement of Iran deal progress combined with SpaceX IPO pricing drove the broadest rally in weeks. Bank stocks hit record highs on ceasefire optimism reducing energy-cost pressure on consumers and corporates. Tech outperformed: Nasdaq +2.54% led by chip stocks (NVIDIA, AMD, AVGO) on AI infrastructure enthusiasm boosted by the SpaceX-xAI integration story. S&P 500 approaching 7,400 resistance. VIX eased from intraday highs but closed above 22 – investors remain watchful for deal collapse risk.

SECTOR	PERFORMANCE	NOTE
Technology / Semis	Leading	AI theme + SpaceX IPO halo
Financials / Banks	Leading	Record highs; Iran deal = lower long-term rates risk
Energy	Lagging	Brent -4% on ceasefire; oil majors sold
Defensives / Utilities	Lagging	Risk-on rotation out of safe havens

6. ASIAN MARKETS — OVERNIGHT SESSION (12 June 2026)

Source: Bloomberg / CNBC Asia / InvestingLive / Trading Economics

INDEX	CLOSE	% CHANGE	DRIVER
Nikkei 225	66,363	+3.34%	Iran deal; export stocks; yen weakened
Hang Seng (HSI)	n/a	+1.7% (approx.)	Risk-on; HK equities extend rebound
Shanghai Composite	n/a	+1.6% (approx.)	Global sentiment lift; domestic policy support
Kospi (Korea)	n/a	+7.0%–8.5%	Samsung +9%, SK Hynix +9%; chip demand surge

Overnight Tone: Broad Asia Rally

The strongest session in months across Asia-Pacific. Iran deal hopes removed the dominant macro risk that had weighed on markets since late May. Korea surged the most, driven by semis — Bloomberg reported the Kospi surging as much as 8.5% with Samsung and SK Hynix each climbing over 9%. Japan benefitted from yen weakness and renewed global growth optimism. China and Hong Kong followed the positive sentiment but gains were more contained given domestic economic uncertainty. SpaceX IPO further boosted tech-heavy indices.

7. COMMODITIES

Source: Trading Economics / Barchart / Investing.com | Collected ~05:30 BST 12 June 2026

COMMODITY	PRICE	CHANGE	% CHANGE	NOTE
Brent Crude ($/bbl)	$89.25	-$1.13	-1.25%	Iran deal; Strait of Hormuz closure risk easing. Full reopen could push Brent toward $80.
WTI Crude ($/bbl)	$85.94	-	n/a	Lowest since April 2026 on ceasefire hopes
Gold ($/oz)	$4,208.75	+$94.75	+2.30%	Paradox: safe-haven BID despite risk-on. Geopolitical hedge premium still intact. High CPI supports.
Natural Gas ($/MMBtu)	$3.076	-$0.009	-0.29%	Marginal decline; Iran supply premium partially unwinding
Copper ($/lb)	$6.397	+$0.004	+0.07%	Stable; global growth optimism vs China demand uncertainty

8. RATES & FX

Source: FRED / Trading Economics / StreetStats / MarketPulse OANDA | Collected ~05:30 BST 12 June 2026

GOVERNMENT BONDS

INSTRUMENT	YIELD	CHANGE (BP)	NOTE
US 10Y Treasury	4.55%	~flat	Steadied as risk-on/Iran offset CPI pressure; Fed cut unlikely near-term
German 10Y Bund	3.07%	+	Near 2-month highs. ECB June hike expected. Higher bunds = spread compression risk for corps.
US-Germany Spread	148 bp	~flat	Policy divergence; Fed on hold vs ECB hiking

FX

PAIR	LEVEL	CHANGE	NOTE
EUR/USD	1.1650	~flat	Range-bound; ECB hike priced in. Iran deal mildly EUR-positive via energy import cost drop.
GBP/USD	1.3430	-	Pulled back from mid-1.36s; BoE pause vs ECB hiking weighs on GBP
DXY (USD Index)	~100.0	slight -	Below 100 on Iran optimism; safe-haven demand eases. Near 2-month high; Iran deal = DXY headwind.

9. DCM — PRIMARY BOND MARKET

YESTERDAY'S ISSUANCES (11 JUNE 2026)

No confirmed EUR IG/HY/SSA deals sourced via web search for 11 June 2026.

IFR and GlobalCapital paywalled. Market was open Thursday but activity data unavailable at time of collection. Context: European bond market has been active in 2026 with EU Commission targeting €100B in long-term EU-Bonds by end-June 2026. Strong investor demand backdrop vs rising Bund yields. Check IFR/GlobalCapital for deal log. Any EUR IG corporate deals priced Thursday: n/a (could not confirm).

PIPELINE / EXPECTED TODAY (12 JUNE 2026)

SSA: EU Commission — potential syndication in June 2026 EU-Bond programme

EU targeting €100B long-term issuance by end-June 2026. Final tranche syndication window open. Subject to market conditions post-ECB.

Corporate IG pipeline: n/a — no specific mandates confirmed via available sources

Friday historically thin for primary market; issuers likely wait for post-ECB window next week. Iran deal ceasefire could open spreads for energy sector issuers.

KEY SPREADS

INDEX	LEVEL (BP)	MOVE	DIRECTION
iTraxx Main (5Y)	n/a	n/a	Expected: tightening on Iran deal risk-off unwind
iTraxx Crossover (5Y)	n/a	n/a	Expected: tightening — HY names benefit from ceasefire
CDX IG (5Y)	n/a	n/a	US IG spreads near historical tights per Wellington Q1 2026 data
Avg EUR Corp IG Spread	n/a	n/a	2026 outlook: gradual widening. Near-term: Iran deal = tightening impulse

Note: iTraxx/CDX live spread data unavailable via open sources at collection time. Verify with Bloomberg/IFR before use.

DCM COMMENTARY

The primary market window is marginally open but cautious ahead of the ECB June meeting where a 25bp hike is widely expected. The Iran ceasefire news is credit-positive – energy importers and transport credits will price tighter on a confirmed deal. Fridays are typically quiet in primary; expect real activity to resume Monday-Tuesday next week in the post-ECB window. Rising Bund yields (3.07%) continue to compress all-in yields and test investor appetite at current spread levels. EU Commission syndication remains the live pipeline item. Corporate IG issuers in industrials and transport should exploit any post-ceasefire spread tightening to print deals early next week.

12. STOCKS TO WATCH – TODAY

Source: Bloomberg / CNBC / StockTwits / Yahoo Finance | Collected ~05:30 BST

SPCX	SpaceX Nasdaq IPO debut at $135/share. $1.77T valuation. Heaviest watched IPO in market history. xAI integration, Starlink revenues, defense contracts. Watch for first-day premium / bust.	IPO / VOLATILE
005930.KS / Samsung	Surged 9%+ in Seoul overnight on Iran deal and global chip demand revival. HBM supply for AI stacks. Read-through for European semi-equipment (ASML).	▲ BULLISH
ASML	EUV/DUV equipment maker. Korea chip rally and SpaceX AI narrative = demand uplift. European tech bellwether. Watch for gap-up at open.	▲ BULLISH
BP / Shell (LON)	Iran deal = lower oil prices. Brent at $89.25 and falling. Energy majors face earnings multiple compression. FTSE 100 drag.	▼ BEARISH
IAG	Iran deal = lower jet fuel costs. Brent -4% is a direct P&L positive for airlines. IATA June AGM just concluded in Rio; AGM today. Watch for analyst upgrades.	▲ BULLISH
Airbus (AIR FP)	A&D name benefiting from Middle East peace narrative and global airline order recovery. Geopolitical de-escalation supports long-haul network expansion.	▲ BULLISH
Rheinmetall / BAE Systems	Iran deal = potential de-escalation headwind for defense spending narrative. Counter-argument: NATO 3% GDP commitment still active. Watch for profit-taking after recent run.	▼ NEAR-TERM RISK
Glencore / Rio Tinto	Copper +0.07% stable. Iran deal = global growth optimism = metals demand. China stimulus narrative intact. Miners could outperform on risk-on day.	▲ MILD BULLISH

BNP Paribas / SocGen	French banks hit record highs US session. Iran ceasefire = lower sovereign risk premiums in Europe. ECB June hike supports NIM expansion. CAC 40 tailwind.	▲ BULLISH

13. MACRO / CORPORATE / POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

MACRO

- US CPI May 2026: +4.2% YoY – highest since April 2023, energy-driven (+3.9% MoM on energy, gasoline +40.5% YoY). Core +2.9% YoY. Reduces Fed cut probability in 2026. Market pricing near-zero chance of cut before Q4 2026.
- ECB June meeting: 25bp rate hike widely expected. Bund yield at 3.07% near 2-month highs. EUR inflation elevated from energy costs. ECB must hike despite potential Iran-driven oil drop creating a natural counter-force to energy inflation.
- University of Michigan Sentiment (June prelim, today 15:00 BST): Key read on consumer confidence post-CPI spike and Iran war narrative. VIX remains above 22. A beat could extend the risk-on rally; a miss would test the bounce's conviction.
- Strait of Hormuz: Remained closed through early June; oil supply disruption was primary energy inflation driver. Iran deal and reopening would collapse energy CPI rapidly – potential Fed pivot window in Q4 if realized.

CORPORATE

- SpaceX IPO (SPCX) at $1.77T valuation – largest in history. SpaceX absorbed xAI (Musk's AI company) this year, making it a combined space-tech-AI conglomerate. OpenAI and Anthropic SEC filings suggest further mega-IPOs in H2 2026.
- Global record corporate debt issuance in 2025: $13.7T, split ~50/50 financials/non-financials. 2026 expected to sustain volume with M&A financing pipeline growing materially per Dealogic.
- Banking sector at record highs (US, Thursday session): Bloomberg reported bank stocks hitting records on Iran deal prospects. JPM, BAC, GS led. Read-through for European banks (BNP, SocGen, Deutsche) at open today.

POLITICAL / GEOPOLITICAL

- US-Iran deal: Trump says documents "almost done," signing in Europe possibly this weekend. Israeli coordination confirmed. Oil market pricing ~60% probability of full Strait of Hormuz reopening within 2 weeks.
 - US military strikes on Iran completed: Trump confirmed strikes were finished on Thursday. Peace framework involves nuclear programme freeze and sanctions relief. Details emerging. Market risk: deal collapse if hardliners object.
 - NATO 3% GDP defence spending: Target maintained despite Iran ceasefire narrative. European defence budgets remain elevated – Rheinmetall, BAE, Airbus Defence continue to benefit from multi-year procurement cycles independent of any single conflict resolution.

14. KEY THEMES — TOP 5 BY HORIZON

TODAY'S TOP 5

1. SpaceX (SPCX) IPO Debut

$135 IPO price, $1.77T valuation. First-day pricing sets tone for mega-IPO pipeline (OpenAI, Anthropic). A strong debut extends Nasdaq risk appetite; a bust could reprice AI valuations across the board.

2. Iran Deal Finalisation

Trump's "signing in Europe this weekend" claim is the dominant geopolitical driver. Confirmation = oil -5%+, energy CPI normalization outlook, EM risk rally. Collapse = oil spiked back, market reversal.

3. University of Michigan Sentiment (15:00 BST)

Consumer confidence is lagging indicator of war/inflation stress. June prelim read post-CPI spike and Iran war. A print below 60 would undercut the equity rally narrative of "deal done, growth recovers."

4. UK GDP April Data (07:00 BST)

Monthly UK GDP releases provide early read on Q2 momentum. Consensus +0.1% MoM. A negative print risks GBP/USD downside and FTSE re-rating. Context: UK still navigating post-inflation slowdown.

5. European Open Reaction to Asia Surge

Nikkei +3.3%, Kospi +7-8.5%. Futures point to +0.5-1.1% at open. Whether European markets sustain or fade the Asia gap-up determines whether this is a genuine risk-on pivot or a dead-cat bounce.

THIS WEEK'S TOP 5

1. Iran Peace Deal Signing

If signed this weekend, markets open Monday with Strait of Hormuz reopening timeline. Dramatic repricing of energy, shipping, and inflation outlook.

2. US CPI (May) Digestion

+4.2% YoY – now in the market. Fed speech calendar this week provides first official response. Fed Chair remarks on inflation-vs-war-premium split are critical.

3. SpaceX Trading Week 1

Price discovery for SPCX through end of week. Market cap relative to Tesla ($1.6T) and broader AI valuation comparables will generate analyst commentary reshaping tech sector multiples.

4. Broadcom (AVGO) Q2 Earnings (Today after close)

Key AI semiconductor read. Custom ASIC bookings and Hyperscaler capex guidance set the AI investment narrative for Q3. A strong beat confirms the AI buildout is accelerating despite macro headwinds.

5. ECB Meeting Countdown

Expected 25bp hike – markets pricing it in. Bunds at 3.07%. Post-ECB statement on energy-driven inflation vs ceasefire oil drop will drive EUR/USD and European credit spreads into next week.

THIS MONTH'S TOP 5

1. ECB June Rate Decision

25bp hike expected. Will define EUR rate trajectory for H2 2026 and set the tone for European credit, corporate funding costs, and EUR/USD through July. Hawkish statement could push Bunds above 3.2%.

2. Iran Nuclear Deal Ratification

Full implementation timeline: Strait reopening, sanctions unwinding, oil market rebalancing. June 2026 could mark the peak in energy-driven inflation globally – pivotal for central bank forward guidance.

3. EU Commission End-of-June Bond Issuance Deadline

€100B EU-Bonds target by end-June. Final syndication(s) in June. Major supply event for EUR SSA market; determines end-of-period spread levels ahead of summer.

4. Fed June FOMC Meeting

No hike expected but guidance on "higher for longer" in context of 4.2% CPI is market-moving. Post-meeting press conference will be scrutinised for war-premium language.

5. OpenAI / Anthropic IPO Progress

Both filed SEC paperwork per searches. SpaceX's successful IPO creates a valuation benchmark. Market reaction to SPCX this month conditions appetite for the next wave of AI mega-IPOs.

15. KEY TRENDS TO WATCH

1 DAY – WHAT COULD MOVE TODAY'S SESSION

- SpaceX first-trade price vs $135 IPO – gap premium or discount sets sentiment tone for entire session
- Iran deal: any new statement from Tehran or White House confirming/denying signing timeline
- UK GDP April (07:00 BST) – negative print could reverse GBP and FTSE 100 gap-up
- UMich Consumer Sentiment prelim (15:00 BST) – key test of post-war consumer mood vs CPI shock
- Oil price: Brent $89 – does it hold or break lower on ceasefire confirmation? Watch $85 as next support

1 WEEK – KEY APPOINTMENTS AND THEMES

- Iran deal signing (potentially this weekend) – Monday open reaction is the major binary event
- ECB meeting – date TBC within coming days; watch Bund yield volatility around announcement
- Fed speakers this week: watch for language on energy-war premium vs underlying inflation
- SPCX price discovery week 1 – analysts' first price targets will be published; reshapes AI valuation landscape
- Eurozone industrial production (today) and further PMI-adjacent data – growth trajectory assessment

1 MONTH – MAJOR DEADLINES AND UNDERLYING TRENDS

- EU Commission €100B bond target: end-June deadline – final syndication(s) to price before summer break
- Fed FOMC June meeting: guidance on 2026 rate path post-4.2% CPI is the dominant US rates driver
- Strait of Hormuz reopening timeline: if Iran deal holds, energy sector re-rating across oil, shipping, chemicals
- OpenAI / Anthropic IPO preparation: SpaceX benchmark sets AI company valuations for rest of 2026
- NATO 3% GDP defence spending cycle: procurement pipeline orders expected to be formalised at mid-year defence budgets – Rheinmetall, BAE, Leonardo, Airbus Defence remain structural longs regardless of Iran deal
