

Morning Briefing — 10 June 2026

Generated: 06:55 BST (London) | Pre-European open | Data collected: 06:00–06:55 BST

⚠ Data collected automatically from public sources. Verify all figures before making any investment decision. Some data points may reflect prior-session closes. Items marked n/a could not be reliably sourced.

2. IMPORTANT NEWS

● SpaceX sets $135/share IPO price; pricing tonight, Nasdaq debut 12 June (ticker: SPCX)

CNBC / IPOScoop / Capital.com

Largest IPO in history at $75B raised; $1.77T market cap would rank SpaceX 7th-largest US company. Goldman Sachs lead banker. Sentiment around AI and space infrastructure tested at open Thursday.

● US CPI for May 2026 releases today at 08:30 ET (13:30 London)

BLS / US Inflation Calculator

Binary macro event. Markets price ~70% probability of a Dec 2026 Fed rate hike after May jobs beat (+172k vs +85k expected). A hot print reinforces that view and pressures equities and bonds.

● Trump: Iran deal "days away," would reopen Strait of Hormuz immediately — but ceasefire frayed again at weekend

CNBC / CBS News / BeinCrypto

Oil fell ~3% on Monday/Tuesday as deal optimism grew; Brent near $93/bbl. A confirmed deal opens Hormuz and could drop Brent toward $70s. Another failure keeps energy inflation sticky and complicates Fed path.

● Trump administration planning new 10–12.5% tariffs on many countries

CNBC (Europe markets coverage)

Adds to trade uncertainty already weighing on European equities. Sector exposure: autos, industrials, chemicals. Adds to EUR/USD downside pressure and complicates ECB easing narrative.

● PHLX Semiconductor Index fell 10% last Friday; partial rebound Monday on chip rally

CNBC

Largest single-day chip drop since April 2025. Rebound Monday fragile — ASML, STM, Infineon in Europe may see volatile open. Direction of Nasdaq on Tuesday close (-0.97%) suggests rebound did not fully hold.

3. EUROPEAN FUTURES — PRE-OPEN

Specific pre-open levels not reliably sourced at time of collection. Directional context provided. Check Barchart / Eurex / Bloomberg for live quotes.

CONTRACT	LAST RELIABLE REFERENCE	DIRECTION BIAS	KEY DRIVER
Euro Stoxx 50	n/a	Mixed	Iran deal hope vs tariff risk vs chip selloff
DAX	n/a	Mixed / slight neg	DAX -1.38% yesterday; tariff exposure
CAC 40	n/a	Mixed	CAC +0.43% yesterday; watch oil majors
FTSE 100	n/a	Mixed	FTSE -0.40% yesterday; energy, mining weight
S&P 500 Futures	n/a	Flat to slight neg	CPI pre-positioning; tech drag
Nasdaq 100 Futures	n/a	Slightly neg	Chips volatile; SpaceX IPO diverting risk appetite

Note: June 8 intraday data showed ES50 futures -1.5%, Stoxx 600 futures -1.3% at one point that session. Context only.

4. YESTERDAY'S CLOSES — EUROPEAN INDICES (9 JUNE 2026)

INDEX	CLOSE	CHANGE	NOTES
Euro Stoxx 50	n/a	n/a	Stoxx 600 proxy: -0.53% day
Stoxx 600	n/a	-0.53%	Broad European index; lacked direction
DAX	n/a	-1.38%	Worst performer; tariff and Iran risk
CAC 40	n/a	+0.43%	Outperformer; energy names helped
FTSE 100	n/a	-0.40%	Oil/mining drag; Iran ceasefire optimism offset

Absolute closing levels not reliably sourced. Percentage changes from RTT News / CNBC European market coverage.

5. US MARKETS — SESSION OF 9 JUNE 2026

INDEX	CLOSE	CHANGE	POINTS
S&P 500	7,386.65	-0.26%	-19 pts
Dow Jones	50,872.11	+0.17%	+86 pts
Nasdaq Composite	25,678.82	-0.97%	-252 pts

Session tone: Negative for tech, resilient for value. S&P and Nasdaq sold off sharply intraday after President Trump suggested kinetic strikes on Iran might resume following the reported targeting of a US Army Apache helicopter off Oman. A partial recovery into the close left Nasdaq still down nearly 1%. The Dow gained on rotation into defensive/industrial names.

Leading sector: Dow industrials, financials (slight gains). Lagging: Technology (-2%), semiconductors.

Key takeaway: Iran risk premium is back in the market and creating intraday volatility. The partial chip rebound from last Friday's 10% PHLX crash failed to hold by close.

6. ASIAN MARKETS — OVERNIGHT SESSION (10 JUNE 2026)

Data reflects most recent available closes. June 10 session may still be in progress at report generation.

INDEX	LEVEL	CHANGE	AS OF	NOTES
Nikkei 225	65,416	+2.17%	9 Jun close	Snapped 3-day losing streak; tech/AI rebound
Hang Seng	24,565.90	n/a	9 Jun close	Level confirmed; daily % not sourced
Shanghai Composite	n/a	n/a	n/a	Data not reliably sourced this session
Kospi (South Korea)	~8,639	-1.84%	4 Jun (stale)	Most recent data Jun 4; Iran/oil drag at that date

Overnight tone: Japan recovered Tuesday on AI/tech buying. Broader Asia mixed given ongoing Iran-Hormuz uncertainty, elevated oil, and US chip volatility. Chinese and Korean data sparse at collection time.

7. COMMODITIES

COMMODITY	LEVEL	CHANGE / CONTEXT	NOTES
Brent Crude	~$93/bbl	Fell below $93 Jun 9	Down ~3% on Iran ceasefire optimism. Peak near $95 this week.
WTI Crude	~$88-90/bbl	Jun 9 range: $86-$91.54	Trump "deal days away" driving declines. Still well above pre-conflict levels.
Gold	~$4,260/oz	Fell from recent highs	Eased as geopolitical safe-haven demand faded on ceasefire talk. Still up sharply YTD.
Natural Gas	n/a	n/a	US NatGas +6.1% in May index; Hormuz disruption raised LNG prices sharply in Mar-Apr.
Copper	n/a	n/a	Data not reliably sourced this session. AI infrastructure demand supports prices.

Context: Oil has fallen roughly 20% from 2026 peak as Iran deal talk accelerated. The IEA has called this conflict the "greatest global energy security challenge in history." Energy price index fell 5.4% in May as Brent crude declined 10.7%. A confirmed Hormuz deal could accelerate the drop toward $70s; a deal collapse would quickly reverse gains.

8. RATES & FX

INSTRUMENT	LEVEL	CHANGE / DIRECTION	NOTES
US 10Y Treasury Yield	~4.57%	↑ (elevated)	Bounced to 5.46% Mon (9-week high), pulled back. Driven by May jobs beat (+172k vs +85k exp).
German 10Y Bund Yield	~3.04%	↑	Tracking US yields higher; spread to Treasuries still wide given divergent growth.
EUR/USD	~1.165	Range-bound	Broadly stable near late-May levels. Tariff risk and ECB path weigh. DXY pressure limits upside.
GBP/USD	~1.343	Eased	Gave back most of early-May push toward mid-1.36s. UK data watch.
DXY (Dollar Index)	~100	Slipped below 100	Eased Tue after Iran ceasefire talk reduced safe-haven demand. Strong jobs print limits downside.

Key rate dynamic: Strong May payrolls (+172k, UR 4.3% steady) raised Dec 2026 Fed rate-hike probability to ~70%. Market is no longer pricing cuts — the shift is toward higher for longer or even a hike. Today's CPI is the next pivotal input. A hot reading would push the 10Y back toward 5.5%.

9. DCM — PRIMARY BOND MARKET

YESTERDAY'S ISSUANCES (9 JUNE 2026)

Transaction-level data for June 9 not available from public searches at time of collection. Sources (Dealogic, IFR, GlobalCapital) require authenticated access. Verify via Bloomberg / IFR primary market desk.

ISSUER	SIZE	TENOR	COUPON / SPREAD	IPT TIGHTENING

PIPELINE / EXPECTED TODAY & THIS WEEK

SpaceX (SPCX): Equity IPO pricing tonight (11 June), not a bond — but Goldman/MS/BofA/Citi/JPM involvement signals heavy ECM bandwidth this week, potentially reducing DCM capacity.

AI & Hyperscaler Debt Pipeline: Several hundred billion USD of new issuance expected from hyperscalers and large-tech borrowers in 2026 to fund data center build-out. EUR-denominated foreign issuance has surged to ~EUR 100bn YTD vs EUR 32bn avg over same period last 5 years. Watch for datacentre/cloud issuer mandates in coming weeks.

Sovereign/SSA: EU sovereign debt issuance calendar available via EFC Sub-Committee. No specific announcement found for June 10 at time of collection.

COMMENTARY

Primary market tone in EUR IG has been constructive in early June despite rate volatility. Window remains technically open: EUR foreign issuance running ~3x historical pace in 2026, driven by AI/hyperscaler demand for EUR funding. The primary risk to the window is today's CPI print — a material upside surprise would cheapen new-issue concessions and may prompt issuers to pull mandates until conditions stabilize. Financials and SSA remain the anchor segments; HY execution is more selective given energy inflation backdrop. Industrials and transport issuers watch Iran deal closely: a reopened Hormuz would materially change fuel cost assumptions and could re-rate balance sheet risk.

10. ECONOMIC CALENDAR — 10 JUNE 2026

LONDON TIME	INDICATOR	CONSENSUS	IMPORTANCE
13:30	US CPI (May 2026) — Consumer Price Index YoY & MoM	n/a (watch)	HIGH
13:30	US Initial Jobless Claims (weekly, if scheduled)	n/a	MEDIUM
10:00	Eurozone / ECB speaker (if scheduled — verify)	n/a	MEDIUM
All day	Aegon AGM — Annual General Meeting; final dividend EUR 0.21/share proposed	n/a	LOW

Tomorrow (11 June): US PPI (May 2026) — follows CPI for full inflation picture. SpaceX IPO pricing after market close.

11. CORPORATE EVENTS & EARNINGS

COMPANY	EVENT	DETAIL	MARKET IMPACT
Aegon (AGN)	AGM — June 10	Final dividend EUR 0.21/share to be proposed; 2025 accounts presented	Low short-term; dividend confirmation supportive
SpaceX (pre-IPO)	IPO Roadshow final day	$135/share price set; pricing tonight after close; Nasdaq debut June 12 as SPCX	Major event; watch sentiment in space & AI names today
Palo Alto Networks (PANW)	Earnings (week of June 8-12)	Q earnings release this week (verify exact date)	Cybersecurity sector bellwether
Broadcom (AVGO)	Earnings (week of June 8-12)	AI chip/networking revenue closely watched	Key AI infrastructure read-through
CrowdStrike (CRWD)	Earnings (week of June 8-12)	Cybersecurity demand in Iran conflict backdrop	Geopolitical threat backdrop supportive

Exact earnings dates for PANW/AVGO/CRWD: verify on Yahoo Finance earnings calendar. Q1 2026 S&P 500 EPS growth tracking +28.4% YoY per FactSet.

12. STOCKS TO WATCH

NVDA NVIDIA (Nasdaq)	Multiple broker upgrades; expanded Blackwell GPU shipments guided H2 2026. AI demand strongest in years. Volatile after PHLX -10% last Friday.	↑ Bullish
ASML ASML (AEX)	European chip bellwether hit by PHLX selloff last Friday. Today's open crucial: rebound continuation or further unwind of positions.	↑ Volatile
SPCX SpaceX (IPO Jun 12)	IPO priced at $135; $1.77T valuation. First trade Thursday. Sentiment proxy for AI/space; spillover to Virgin Galactic, Rocket Lab, satellite names today.	↑ Bullish sentiment
HPE HP Enterprise (NYSE)	Loop Capital upgraded to Buy with $75 target. AI infrastructure server demand cited. Watch earnings release this week.	↑ Upgrade
KNX Knight-Swift (NYSE)	Susquehanna upgraded Neutral to Positive, $90 target. Transport sector in multi-month rally from April 2025 lows.	↑ Upgrade
BP / SHEL / TTE Oil Majors (LSE/Paris)	Brent -3% move on Iran deal talk. Majors sold off on oil price decline but supported by yield-seeking. Iran deal progress / failure is binary catalyst today.	↑ Deal-dependent
RTX / LMT / NOC US Defense (NYSE)	Trump proposed $1.5T defense budget for FY2027. Iran conflict backdrop sustains demand. Watch for contract news.	↑ Structural bid
GH Guardant Health (Nasdaq)	Evercore ISI upgraded to Outperform, $160 target. Liquid biopsy / oncology diagnostics growth thesis.	↑ Upgrade
EXP Eagle Materials (NYSE)	JPMorgan upgraded Underweight to Neutral, $225 target. Construction materials beneficiary of US infrastructure spend.	↑ Upgrade (neutral)

13. MACRO / CORPORATE / POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

MACRO

Fed path shift: May payrolls +172k (est. +85k); UR 4.3% steady. Markets now price ~70% chance of Fed rate hike in December 2026, reversing earlier cut expectations. Today's CPI is decisive.

Energy inflation: IEA labels Iran conflict "greatest global energy security challenge in history." Energy price index +24% YTD; Brent peaked above $120 after Hormuz closure in March, now near $93 on deal hopes.

ECB divergence: European growth lagging US; ECB expected to continue easing cycle despite energy-driven inflation. EUR/USD range-bound ~1.165 reflects this policy split.

CORPORATE

SpaceX IPO: Largest in history at $75B raise, $1.77T valuation. Goldman Sachs lead. Elon Musk retains 82%+ voting control. 2025 revenue $18.7B but net loss $4.9B. Sets tone for AI/space equity valuations.

Q1 2026 S&P earnings: FactSet tracking +28.4% YoY growth — highest since Q4 2021. Strong earnings backdrop is a key bull case support even as rate fears rise.

AI debt issuance wave: Hyperscalers and tech borrowers expected to issue hundreds of billions in bonds in 2026 to fund data center build. EUR-denominated non-euro corporate issuance running ~3x historical average YTD.

POLITICAL / GEOPOLITICAL

Iran-US war: Conflict began with US-Israel joint operation Feb 28 that killed Iran's Supreme Leader. Hormuz closed March 4, sending Brent above $120. Trump claims peace deal "days away" (repeated claim). Ceasefire frayed June 7–8 weekend. Kinetic strike risk remains.

New US tariffs: Trump admin planning 10–12.5% tariffs on many countries. European response uncertain; adds to EUR/USD downside and complicates ECB path.

China-Japan tensions: Ongoing China-Japan territorial tensions weighed on Hong Kong stocks in early 2026; one factor compressing Hang Seng relative to other Asian markets.

14. KEY THEMES — TOP 5 BY HORIZON

TODAY'S TOP 5

1. US CPI (May) at 13:30 London

Binary event: hot print pushes Fed rate-hike odds above 70%, pressures bonds and equities; soft print gives risk assets relief.

2. Iran Deal Progress

Each headline moves Brent 2-4%; oil direction sets the tone for energy stocks and European inflation expectations at the open.

3. SpaceX IPO Roadshow Sentiment

Final roadshow day before tonight's pricing; secondary effects on Rocket Lab, Planet Labs, NVIDIA, and other AI/space names.

4. Chip Sector Stability

After PHLX -10% Friday and partial rebound Monday, markets need to confirm whether the low holds; ASML and STM are European read-throughs.

5. European Open Direction

DAX was worst performer yesterday at -1.38%; CAC held (+0.43%); divergence reflects tariff vs energy sensitivity — direction today hinges on Iran and CPI pre-positioning.

THIS WEEK'S TOP 5

1. SpaceX Nasdaq Debut (Jun 12)

First trading day of SPCX at $135; how it trades sets sentiment for AI/space sector and the IPO market for the rest of 2026.

2. US PPI (Jun 11)

Back-to-back inflation prints (CPI today, PPI tomorrow) give a complete picture of the inflation pulse and Fed's likely next move.

3. Iran Ceasefire Resolution Attempt

Trump claims deal in "days" for the fourth time; if it holds, Hormuz reopens and Brent could drop $10-15/bbl within sessions.

4. Fed Communication Post-Data

After two strong data prints (jobs + CPI), market watches for Fed speakers to confirm or push back on the December rate-hike narrative.

5. Tariff Implementation Detail

Trump's 10-12.5% tariff announcement needs specifics; sectors at risk (autos, industrials) will react once country/product lists emerge.

THIS MONTH'S TOP 5

1. Iran War Endgame & Hormuz

Permanent ceasefire and Hormuz reopening would be the largest single macro tailwind of 2026 — cutting energy costs, easing inflation, and reducing geopolitical premium in rates.

2. Federal Reserve June Meeting

Post-CPI and PPI data, June Fed meeting will clarify the rate path; shift from cuts to hike would reprice the entire yield curve.

3. SpaceX Index Inclusion Timeline

A $1.77T company listing on Nasdaq will trigger rebalancing discussions; S&P 500 inclusion in coming months would force passive fund buying.

4. Q2 2026 Earnings Pre-Announcements

Q1 tracked +28.4% YoY; Q2 guidance will tell whether energy inflation and tariffs are starting to compress margins — particularly for industrials and transport.

5. ECB Rate Decision & EUR Outlook

ECB easing while Fed considers hiking creates the widest transatlantic rate gap in years; watch EUR/USD for a decisive break from the 1.165 range.

15. KEY TRENDS TO WATCH

1 DAY — Today's Session

CPI at 13:30 London is the primary binary event: a hot reading (+0.4% MoM or above) would push equities lower and yields up, reinforcing the Fed hike narrative. Iran deal headlines remain live throughout the session and will move oil and European energy stocks instantly. Watch ASML, STM, and Infineon opens as the first read on whether the chip sector rebound is durable or a dead-cat bounce. European open direction set by CAC vs DAX divergence and overnight Asian tone from Nikkei recovery.

1 WEEK — Key Appointments

SpaceX first trade Thursday June 12 is the week's set-piece event for risk appetite. PPI Tuesday June 11 completes the inflation double-header. Iran deal talks will dominate headlines all week — any confirmation or collapse will be a top market mover. Earnings from PANW, CRWD, AVGO this week add to the risk calendar. Watch for US tariff implementation specifics and European government responses. Fed speakers post-data will calibrate rate-hike market pricing.

1 MONTH — Underlying Trends

The overarching question for June is whether the Fed hike narrative solidifies (would be a regime change) or reverses if CPI/PPI disappoint. Iran war and Hormuz dynamics remain the dominant macro variable for energy inflation. ECB-Fed policy divergence is widening and will compress EUR/USD unless a deal lowers energy costs and eases ECB inflation concerns. The AI debt supercycle continues: hyperscalers issuing hundreds of billions in bonds, and EUR foreign issuance running at 3x historical pace. US Q2 earnings guidance from June 20 onward will test whether the +28% Q1 growth rate is sustainable amid tariff and energy headwinds.
